Aloha, << Test First Name >>--

We are proactively reminding all of our statewide customers about how we can support those impacted by the Kilauea events. Many of our 180 corporate customers are either based on the Big Island or have employees there, so we wanted to take a moment to remind these people especially about our services.

We have updated our website to feature content (on our home page) that may be helpful to those impacted by the eruptions, providing downloadable flyers on coping with Unexpected Events or Trauma. We'll be adding more over time.

If you have any impacted employees, feel free to remind them of the services available to them through their EAP, which usually include:

- Free, confidential counseling for themselves and their covered family members who live with them.
- Free financial consultation -- 30 minutes of telephonic support from a financial expert if they have been
