- Training
- Critical Incident support and consultation following an accident, death, trauma, or disruptive event

Built for Hawaii's Workforce

Our team at Employee Assistance of the Pacific partners with many construction companies across the islands. We understand local culture, island lifestyles, and the realities of our local construction industry. Support is available for employees and their family members—by phone, online, or in-person—so help is there when it's needed most.

Healthy Workers = Stronger Companies

Taking care of employees isn't just the pono thing to do—it's good business. An EAP is an affordable investment that protects your workforce, your projects, and your bottom line.

Strong foundations start with healthy people.
